- link to MoMA website should read: “link to official MoMA website”
- make navigation bar a hamburger menu for mobile
- pair down history text
- decrease column width on all pages besides home and source page
  - decrease just a bit but then enlarge text a bit (the two small changes together it will make everything being more legible)
- for history page: photoshop the large sections of Rothko to fit text into
  - want it to have more a of painterly feel than just digital square
- more immediately well-known work on top (ex: Starry Night)
- for attendance page– keep Campbell soup border but make inside white background instead of faded image
- key people– only the major positions should have Warhol portrait
- create hierarchy between those major people and people of less importance
